

How to Avoid Overdrafts and Fees

Understanding how your account works is helpful in avoiding unexpected overdrafts and fees. Here are a few account basics that can help you take control of your money.

Know What's Available to Spend in Your Account
Your Available Balance is the portion of each account that's available to use at any given time. The Available Balance may be less than your Account Balance if you have checks, payments, or other transactions that haven't yet cleared. Your Available Balance changes as you make transactions during the day. Withdrawals and debit card purchases, as the merchant settles with the Bank, reduce your Available Balance, while deposits, as they become available, increase your Available Balance. See "Track Your Balance" below for more information.

Tools to Better Manage Your Account
Track Your Balance	Know your Available Balance before you make withdrawals, purchases, or payments. In addition to your own tracking (i.e., your checkbook register), Online Banking and Mobile Banking can provide your Account Balance and account activity. You can also call us at 800-488-2265 (for TTY use 800-659-5495). But remember to consider outstanding checks, debit card purchases, and scheduled payments that may have not yet been debited from your account's Available Balance. Some merchants don't post debit card transactions with the Bank for several days.
Get Balance Alerts	Set up email or text alerts through Online Banking to notify you when your account balance is greater than or less than the limit you specify. These alerts arrive the next business day based on the previous day's activity. For more current balance information, sign in to Online Banking.
Sign Up for Direct Deposit	Have your paycheck or government check automatically deposited into your account. It's faster than waiting for a check to clear and saves you a trip to the Bank or ATM.
Set Up Online Bill Pay and Payment Reminders	Use online Bill Pay to help ensure your bills are paid on time and when you know there will be enough money in your account. To help make sure you never have a late or missed payment, sign up for Payment Reminder alerts in Online Banking.
